Charles Dickens is one of the greatest writers in the English language. His family lived in London. His father was a clerk in an office. It was a good job, but he always spend more money than he earned. There were eight children in the family, so life was hard. Charles went to school and his teachers thought he was very clever. But suddenly when he was only eleven, his father went to prison and the family went, too. Only Charles didn't go to prison. He went to work in a factory where he washed bottles. He worked ten hours a day and earned six pounds a week. Every night after work he walked four miles back to his room. Charles didn't like it and never forgot those days. He used it in many stories like: "David Copper Field" and "Oliver Twist".

52. What did Charles's teachers think about him?

53. Was Charles's father a clerk?

54. Did Charles's family go to prison or not?

55. Charles washed bottles in a factory.
